Dr. Bjeni was present as and resource person to deliver the talk. The major objective of this programme was to describe and deduce that leadership is not gender specific. A female can have excellent leadership qualities either inherent or cultivated in person. Also some illustrations of women leaders such as Hillary Rodham Clinton, Indra Nooyi, Oprah Winfrey, Theresa May, Christine Lagarde were given to motivate the women. She specified that still an invisible barrier and bias preventing women from reaching the top positions should overcome and women must grab the opportunity to set benchmark examples of leadership.
